

IV. CONCLUSION

This paper presents the design of a fully automated boiler with the use of PLC and HMI emphasizing on the control and monitoring of water level, temperature and pressure. The system produces a desired pressure value of 6bar to be used by Guinness Ghana Limited for brewing and sterilization.

The entire automated process provides an improved overall system efficiency and reduced human labor in the processing industry.

REFERENCES

- [1] Boiler Plant Automation available at <http://www.microinstruments-controls.com/boiler-plant.htm>
- [2] Shital S. Chopade, PradhumanVerma, PrashantVerma "Simulation of Boiler Control using PLC & SCADA" international journal of engineering advanced technology (IJEAT) ISSN:2249-8958 Vol 3 December 2013
- [3] Automation of tank level using PLC and establishment of HMI using SCADA, by Rishabh Das et al 2013.
- [4] electrical engineering->programming logic controller->study hardware and software used in PLC,Virtual Labs at <https://www.plc-coep.vlabs.ac.in.com>
- [5] Introduction to PLC at <https://www.automation.com>